

Keston Village Hall

Some Daily Telegraph readers may have spotted the recent article, "Village halls could become a thing of the past". This referred to the fact that "People want to use them but do not want to commit to running them".

We are fortunate to have Keston Village Hall, an excellent facility for use by the community.

Recently the Trustees who are responsible for running the hall have overseen a major extension, a new kitchen, redecoration, an extension to the car park, a new floor for the Jubilee Room and are now finalising plans for the resurfacing works to the main hall floor.

We are determined not to allow the sentiments expressed in the Telegraph article to apply to Keston Village. We do however have vacancies on the Trust Committee and would welcome volunteers to help. The group meets quarterly and we are seeking two local people to join us.
